Easter egg fun... Two happy searchers show off their finds after the Glastonbury Newcomers & Neighbors Club's 4th annual Community Easter Egg Hunt last Saturday. Held at Hebron Elementary School, this year's hunt dealt with snow and had a St. Patrick's Day theme. (See story on page 24.)

Easter eggs in the snow! The event also celebrated St. Patrick's Day with green eggs.

Newcomers Club Hosts 4th Annual Easter Egg Hunt

Glastonbury Newcomers' & Neighbors' Club (GNN) hosted its 4th annual Community Easter Egg Hunt a little early this year!

Held on Saturday, March 17 at Hebron Avenue Elementary School, this year's hunt contended with some snow while it also celebrated St. Patrick's Day with green eggs filled with chocolate coins and green necklaces.

The annual Easter Egg Hunt is part of the club's community enrichment focus: "this free community event was created to give back to the families of Glastonbury," observed the club. Limited to 100 children, the event has a wait list every year.

GNN volunteers created special eggs and activities for each age group to make the hunt challenging and fun. The club thanked members and all volunteers, who donated eggs, candy, toys, food and volunteered their time to make the event a success. It also expressed appreciation to the volunteers who come from St. Dunstan's and the GHS Key Club to help with the hunt.

GNN is a nonprofit organization whose purpose is to welcome new residents, provide an environment where residents can foster lasting friendships through social activities including book club and playgroups and to promote community involvement. Members include new residents and long-standing Glastonbury families.
